Carnival For Children's Ward

"Children Helping Children" was the theme of this year's carnival on Angier and Richardson playgrounds. Proceeds from this and Proceeds from this and similar carnivals throughout the city are being given to the children's ward of Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

The carnival began with a cake and cookie sale. Games included a penny toss, dart throwing, shuffle board, put-ting contests, nail driving, bean bag throw, horseshoe pitch, ect.

Pop corn and lemonade were on sale.

A wet sponge toss at the instructors topped the day.

More than $30 was realized from this carnival alone.

Bid To Kiddie Kamp

Editor of The Graphic: With the news of the past months concerning the prob-lems of racial imbalance in the school systems in our Commonwealth and the suggested solutions, may I suggest to our school committee that they have an opportunity to see first-hand the results of mixing white and negro youngsters.

The Kiddie Kamp of Massachusetts, a non-sectarian or-ganization, has for the past 28 years conducted a program of bringing young boys of all faiths and colors together at a summer vacation at its camp in Sharon. This camp has truly demonstrated "Dehas truly demonstrated "De-mocracy in Action." Boys from all over our state are given the opportunity to play, live and eat with each other.

This "human relations in short pants" can be a lesson to all who are interested in possible solutions of the problems of our negro population. May I invite our school committee to be my guest and visit Kiddie Kamp this sumyou wouldn't need any opposition.

Book Reviews

A. William Kunkel, Librar-lan at the Newton Free Li-brary, has reviewed two new books which have elicited popular acclaim and are now available at the library at 414 Centre street.

A HOUSE OF MANY ROOMS

by Rodello Hunter Rodello Hunter, author of A House of Many Rooms, says, "In most large families . . . you will find a chronicler." "In most large families ... you will find a chronicler."
And that is exactly what Rodello Hunter has become for the large Woodrow family made up, as Mama Woodrow said "of nine owned and five hormowed."

In A House of Many Rooms Rodello, the second born, (as-suming in the book the name, Prilla Lou) has written a rol licking memoir of this intrigu ing Mormon family, each member of which is a most amazing individual.

The whole chronicle starts with the original one room log cabin that Papa built himself.
With the coming of each
"owned or borrowed" child, another room was added. Even then the house often bulged at the seams. In such a household it is easy to see that something was always go

Prilla Lou tells of such tricks as using beet juice to color her lips to be like the other girls at school, of such pranks as stealing the shop-ping money and its harsh punishment, of such disasters as the mining accident in which one brother was killed and finally of the tragedy of losing Mama. THE YANKEE PEDDLERS
OF EARLY AMERICA

"The Yankee Peddlers of arly America" carries one ack to another era in the good old days. Three hundred years ago, carrying a knap-sack, the first early American peddler made his way on foot through the wilderness, bring ing his wares and a breath of civilization to the lonely pioneer. As roads, transportation and over-night accomo-dations were improved, he soon became a familiar sight, driving his cart with its jingl ing tinware. It was filled with everything from needles and pins, household goods, implements, guns and ammu-nition, medicine and other necessities, down to the luxury of a clock for the mantlepiece or brass buttons for a jacket. How and where the peddler obtained his supplies will interest every antique

Many were transfilling cobblers artists travelling cobblers, artists, printers, carpenters, or black-smiths, while the itinerant preachers, judges and doctors were welcomed in every out post.

This affectionate history of early America is illustrated with interesting black and white sketches of old trails, inns and various modes of transportation. There are many photographs of famous many photographs of famous places, people and priceless antiques. It is written in such a lively and informative style that it is a delight to read. Mr. Dolan, the author, makes one realize how important a part the lowly Yankee peddler has played in our nation's

Scout Roundup Report From Newton Girl

(Editor's Note: Sharon Rooney of Newton has sent the Graphic the following re-port on the big Girl Scout Roundup in Farragut, Idaho.)

By SHARON ROONEY FARRAGUT, IDAHO -

A city of tents is firmly established, and the 1965 Senior Girl Scout Roundup in Farragut, Idaho, is almost over. For 10,000 teenage Girl Scouts from all over the world the Roundup was Scouting's pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

A total of 10,000 voices echoed in harmony in a natural amphitheater at the second all-Roundup arena event as the girls and adult volunteers alike made a solemn promise, "On my honor, I will try . . " and sealed it by the lighting of 10,000 individual candles.

What has Roundup meant to the individuals attending? The

What has Roundup meant to the individuals attending? The answers to that question are highly personalized, yet all would have one point in common. Roundup has been a meeting ground for the exchange of ideas for girls from all over the world lection. all over the world. Lasting friendships and new convic-tions have been formed, and girls have learned the importance of understanding and teamwork.

A natural setting of beauty

A natural setting of beauty on a plateau rimmed with mountains has been the inspiration for many girl artists and poets. It has also been the hiker's paradise as six trails led her "On the Trail to Tomorrow."

In the Rendezvous area the girls have shown other Roundup participants and huge up participants and huge crowds of visitors some of their local area's history or skills through demonstrations planned in training sessions for Roundup.

Potlatches, an Indian cus-tom of exchanging gifts, has been a favorite activity.

Girl Scouts used every mode of transportation in getting to Roundup. Trains, airplanes and buses were, for many, the start of meeting new people and new ideas enroute to an event of such great scope that to imagine it without seeing it is a next to impossible feat.
The 1965 Senior Girl Scout Roundup has carried through

Roundup has carried through its theme "On the Trail to Tomorrow," and its slogan "A Promise in Action" has been successfully brought home to 10,000 girls from all over the world.

They expressed the desire of the High School group to have a center where High School people may gather after school to socialize,

They point out that they do not want an expensive or ela-borate unit; they do want one with supervision, but not with any formal program-a place where small groups may ga-ther for mutual interest, where activities such as dancing, singing, rallies, ping-pong, may be found according to the taste of the group. It should be a place where they could relax or study or just mill around without being "in the way."

They also point out that activities vary from group to group, and from season to season, and spontaneity should take the place of scheduled activities.

The committee voted to enlarge its membership with other interested people and hopes to have civic and service groups to participate, and instructed the girls to poll its class for specific ideas as to size and use of the center and a possible set of rules of membership and conduct.

Judge Yesley appointed a sub-committee to study ways and means to enlist aid from various foundations. The committee is as follows:

Susan Gradone and Janet Rome, both students of Newton North High School; John B. Penney, commissioner of recreation; Michael Flynn, vice president, Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Charles E. Brown, superin-tendent, Newton School De-partment, or delegate; Paul Burke Newton Board of Aldermen; Charles E. Feeley, safety officer, Newton Police Dept.; Peter Harrington, president, Newton Junior Cham-ber of Commerce, and Ken-neth E. Prior, chief probation officer. District Court of New

Judge Yesley stated, "the efforts of this committee are to provide a much needed center for the recreational and social activities of an important segment of our society. This age group represents approximately 5,000 young, interesting citizens, who deserve our support. We demand much of our youth, we should also help them in their earnest desires. This is a community service of the highest order."

Judge Yesley also stated that the committee would meet again on the week of August.

Forty youngsters were taught bicycle safety on Carr School playground last week by Charles Feeley, safety officer of the Newton Police Department, assisted by play-ground instructors and many of their parents.

Among the points brought out were the importance of riding on streets instead of sidewalks, stopping at driveways and intersections, look ing for danger situations, and walking the bike when it would be safer than riding.

They put the lessons they learned into practice during a ride on neighboring streets. There were two groups, one for children in the third grade or below, the other for those

The next group of beginners showed the progression from the floats to a simstroke on their front and back. The advanced beginner swam a fully coordinated crawl stroke and the elemen-tary back stroke besides do-ing some underwater swimming. Intermediates also did the crawl, but further demonstrated the side stroke, the breast stroke and diving. The whole swimming portion of the program included more than 140 youngsters. Members of the junior and senior life saving classes demonstrated various techniques. Elementary rescue forms which can be used by either a swimmer or a nonswimmer were the first to be shown. Survival swimming was demonstrated and two swimming rescues were performed. Through the use of a spare tire, Mr. Champagne pointed out a means of rescue which may be immediately available. Six of the life sav-ers showed how the tire will offer an adequate support in the water. The climax of the life saving part of the pro-gram was Mr. Champagne's demonstration of rescue tech-niques using the paddle board. William Neely assisted Mr. Champagne. Glen Hart, life saving instructor at the lake, ended the program with an outstanding demonstration of a paddle board rescue combined with rescue breathing.

Democratic Politicos Worry About Party Clashes In '66

Even in these hot summer days of 1965 some Democratic leaders are worried about the possibility of in-ternecine political warfare within their party that might leave it in a shambles in the fall of 1966.

They recall vividly the bitter primary fight last year between Endicott Peabody and Francis X. Bellotti which tore the Democratic party asunder and helped to set the stage for John A. Volpe's return to the Governorship. And they discuss means of preventing a recurrence of that situation.

What they'd like to do would be to get an agree-POLITICS—(See Page 4)

It wasn't so many years ago that those sermons made ar impact on listening parish-ioners, causing them to turn out in great numbers to defeat changes in the birth control law when they appeared on the election day ballot as a referendum.

Clergymen such as Monsig nor Casey have moderated their views on birth control, but the sermons they preached left their mark upon those who heard them and on legislators who aren't exactly seeking any medals for political heroism. Catholics, of course, are not

City Borrows Tax Anticipation Limit For Year

City Treasurer Archie R. eighth million - dollar loan, thus setting a record for anti-cipation of taxes borrowing for any one year.

The loan is due on Nov. 5, and half of the final million, which reaches the limit for 1965 set by the Board of Al-dermen, was awarded to the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company at 2.08 per-cent. The New England Mer-chants National Bank of Boston and the First National Bank of Boston were awarded $250,000 each at 2.11 percent. No further tax anticipation loans will be necessary this Whitman. In the event that taxpayers are slow in paying bills he said, he can ask the Boston Edison Company and other utilities to tide the city over until the money

Due to the unexpected win. Centre's final standing is 5-14-1, and that of the Highlanders, 15-4-1.

Larry Ames, the Highlander's starting pitcher and loser, gave up a leadoff triple to Tom Buckley in the open-ing inning. Then, on two walks and a single by John Gerity, Centre acquired a two-run lead, and Jack Hines' safety, plus a pair of errors, made it 5-0. Gerity also drove in two runs in the fourth. Coupled with another error, they put Centre well out in front.

In the fifth, Highlanders garnered four runs after a lead-off double by Gene Buckley, a wild pitch and a double by Rollie Minihan.

The stroke patient's worst enemy may be the feeling of despair and hopelessness which sweeps over him.

But, according to Dr. Charles Bonner, Chairman of the Massachusetts Heart Association's Stroke Committee, strokes are far from hopeless.

Over the past decade, medical research has provided many effective weapons — new drugs, surgical procedures and physical therapeu-tic methods which can im-prove muscle function, even to the severely disabled.

And the outlook for the future is even brighter, Dr. Bonner said.

"One of the most important eapons available to the stroke patient is his own de-termination to get well," Dr. Bonner declared. "One out-standing example of how such determination pays off was Louis Pasteur, the French chemist whose contributions literally shaped modern biological science."

During Pasteur's lifetime

1822 to 1895 — virtually nothing was done for the stroke patient. Yet, he lived and worked for 27 years after suffering a "major" stroke at ported he had many "little" strokes during the period in which much of his best work was done. He went on to make scientific history as the father of microbiology. We honor his memory every time we take a container of pasteurized milk from the refrigerator, or uncork a fine French vintage wine, product of vineyards saved from dis-aster by Pasteur's studies in fermentation.

In our own time, perhaps the most famous persons who have had strokes yet continued their important work are Sir Winston Churchill and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Sir Winston was stricken at age 79 during his final term as Britain's Prime Minister. Yet he lived to celebrate his 89th birthday.

In 1957, during his second term as President, Mr. Eisenhower had a stroke which was mild and transitory in its effects. He made an excellent recovery and soon returned for three more years of what is often called the most strenuous job in the world. He was 73 on October 14.

Discouragement is a common side-effect of stroke, one that sometimes affects the whole family as well as the patient. However, the fact that should be stressed is that nine out of ten stroke patients do recover. Another is that modern medical research will continue to provide new ways and means to help the patients fight stroke.

Dr. Goeway was supported by the support of the Methodic general activities of the camp. In addition to the free swings and sand boxes, the 30 Brouillette of Billerica and children enjoyed organized play in baseball, kickball, dodge-ball, sense games, and many other group games. On rainy days they concentrated on craft projects including the play on the merry-go-round, on craft projects including the making of bracelets and neck-laces and quiet games. Story time was one of the daily Myron M. k favorites. This season the particularly enjoyed dancing and exercising to the special records designated especially for the retarded and handicapped. The large family-sized pool proved an extra source of recreation.

Assisting the regular staff of J. Clement McCann, Tieri and Margaret Nancy Corman were Patricia Jeanne Olson Jill Margolis, Irene Zoff, Debbie Gold, Ann Kravitz and Bill Oser. Robert E. Doherty, reccamp, was also in attendance.

Richardson Is Functioning As An Assistant Governor

For most persons who have held the office the Lieutenant Governorship in Massachusetts has been a political dead-end. Elliot L. Richardson may be the exception who proves the rule.

Richardson has greater responsibilities and more duties than any previous Lieutenant Governor in the history of the Commonwealth.

Much of his work is done behind the scenes quietly, effectively, with no fanfare and attracts little pub-

For example, Richardson drafted the original school imbalance bill which was attached to Governor Volpe's message on education. While a substitute measure subsequently was put together in the State Senate, the persons who prepared it copied many of the provisions proposed by Richardson.

Herbert Regal Seeks Seat On School Board

Herbert F. Regal's candidacy for a seat on the 'Newton School Committee has been receiving increasing support.

Regal reported yesterday that since starting his campaign for election as the School Board member from Ward 6 he has visited and talked with people in all the villages of Newton.

He has been attending meetings and house parties virtually every night and declared that he has been pleased with the response to his candidacy and is deeply impressed by the concern of Newton citizens for their public school system.

"In these days of rising taxes, the School Committee is constantly faced with the challenge of balancing fiscal responsibility against those demands which are essential to maintain and stimulate a first-class system of public school education in Newton." school education in Newton,' Regal asserted.

Alderman William M. Glovsky has announced his sup-port of Regal's candidacy, stating that Regal's "intimate knowledge of Newton, its peo-ple and its problems, which he has obtained by active participation in so many of our community activities, clearly satisfies the positive qualifica-tons for School Committee membership recommended by the Willis Report and by James Bryant Conant."

Mop Haircuts Are Out

Our young local males, with long, languid locks, must face up to the mutilation of their adored cranial flora by the barber's scissors, if they are students at Newton High School.

The wail of the Beatle will be heard in the land as the beloved matting of hair hits the barber-shop

Principal Richard W. Mechem of Newton High School has once again issued his pre-school warning to scholars and parents alike-mop haircuts are out and sensible clothing will be required for re-entry into the local halls of learning.

It is true that ugliness, and beauty, too, is in the eye of the beholder. Maybe the unbarbered noggin and unkempt person heralds a new sloppy era just over the horizon. If such is the case, our young disciples are the pioneers of what seems to be a "back to the hills" movement.

However, until the dawn of that less fastidious day, the prevailing mode for responsible Americans is one of personal neatness and rational attire.

So it would seem that the proponents of sloppiness are in the minority, not as rugged individuals but complete conformists, and shall bend their untidy heads to the barbered and deodorized majority. Especially in the classes at Newton High School

Among the vast population of contemporary youngsters, a comparative handful leans to the so-called Beatle look. To be perfectly frank about the idea, it does very little for any of the lads we've seen who employ it.

It might be well to inform the long-haireds that no special talents are required to go around looking like a mess; it requires no effort at all to be slovenly. In fact, an evidence of maturity and a growing sense of responsibility is reflected in neat hair-cuts and clean clothing.

The immature among the younger girls today also affect the slob facade, hair hanging in cascades over the eyes, mussed-up clothing and a general hill-billy appearance. They look like refugees from the back-hills moonshine country down South.

Parents who can't make headway with the young mavericks in their family corral hail with delight the edict of school officials who find it necessary to inform their young lady and gentlemen charges how to dress properly.

The personal discipline of good grooming never was wasted on growing generations of the past. Let today's parents try practicing it themselves then lend their support to the good work of educators.

These educators are striving to maintain that which once upon a time was taken for granted by parents, teachers and pupils—that kids should present a neat appearance at school.

Letters

Likes Volpe Plan Editor of The Graphic:

In a letter to the editor pub-lished recently, Mr. G. Locke of Newton undertook to ex-plain why he considers the sales tax a regressive tax.

He maintained that low income families would pay a greater percentage of their income in sales taxes than they would in income taxes. I wish to remind Mr. Locke that the sales tax proposed is a limited sales tax, which does not cover the necessities of life. In fact, the Donahue-Kenneally bill, relying more heavily on an income tax takes a larger percent of the income of a lower-income family.

For example, a family with an income of $4,000 a year would pay 49 dollars a year (including sales taxes) under the Volpe Program, while the same family would pay 65 dollars a year under the Donahue-Kenneally Bill. The percent of income spent under cent of income spent under the Volpe program would be 1.2 per cent while the percent of income spent on taxes un der the Donahue-Kenneally would be 1.6 percent. If Mr. Locke sincerely be-lieves that, ". . . we of 20th Century America are more discerning of the realities of life, and more desirous of correcting its inequalities . . ."

he must grant that the state implement this end through increased spending on education as required by the enactment of the Willis Bill.

This corrective measure cannot be undertaken without new sources of revenue. The Volpe program remains the most effective, most progres-sive means of attaining this

Teachings Of Iesus To Be Science Theme

The Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian Science services Sunday will underscore the need for people today to demonstrate the power and practicality of Christ Jesus' teachings.

Passages from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook on "Christ Jesus" will include his promise as recorded by the Apostle John "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also" (John 14:12).

Related readings will contain the following lines from "Science and Health with Key "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science: "My weary hope tries to realize that happy day, when man shall recognize the Science of Christ and less his Science of Christ and love his neighbor as himself, — when he shall realize God's omnipotence and the healing pow-er of the divine Love in what it has done and is doing for mankind... The purpose of his (Jesus') great life-work extends through time and in-cludes universal humanity" cludes universal humanity' (pp. 55, 328).

This week, Dr. Margolin undertook the task of trying to get books for the university at Puerto Rico.

Dr. Margolin was in receipt of a letter from Dr. Ronald C. Bauer, chancellor-elect of the World University, in which he expressed the need for the books for the university library.

The Puerto Rican university needs library books in all the major disciplines,, good fic-tion and basic reference areas. The campaign is being carried on along the lines of the successful campaign for books held some years ago by Brandeis University.

All books donated should be sent care of World University,, International Insti-tute of the Americas, P.O. Box 22876, University Sta-San Juan, Puerto Rico,

Those interested in addi-tional information on the proj-ect can contact Dr. Margolin Northeastern University at his Halcyon Rd, home

Those contemplating shipping books may be interested to know that all libraries have univer a special book post rate of Storrs. a special book post rate of one cent a pound. Puerto Rico is served by the United States postal service and the same rates apply there as in conti-nental USA.

The new World University will open its doors for the first time on September 7th this year.

It also was announced this week that one of the first major undertakings of the new rehabilitation and special education department at Northeastern University, un-der the chairmanship of Dr. Margolin, will be the estab-lishment of a master's degree program in Rehabilitation Administration, the first such program in the nation.

The department will also initiate this fall selected degree credit graduate level courses in the fields of Speech and Hearing Therapy and L. emotionally disturbed. Each of these areas will soon be expanded to full master's degree programs, said Dr. Mar-

1-Hitter Boosts Centre Midgets To City Title

The Newton Centre Playground Midget Baseball Team completed an undefeated sea-son with the annexation of the city title at Lyons Playground. Newton Centre bested Albe-marle Playground 4-0 behind the no-hit pitching of right-hander Steve Goldman. Gold-man went the six inning route while striking out 11 and walking none. Only two errors prevented Goldman from pitching his second perfect game of the season.

Newton Centre scored its initial run in the second inning on an infield hit by Mark O'Malley, a wild pitch, sacri-fice, and another wild pitch. The big blow in the three run fifth inning was Goldman's bases loaded single.

Two fine fielding plays saved Goldman's no-hitter. Don Cohen's running one handed stab in left, and Stan Mescon's stop deep in the hole at second base.

Telmwood Realty Trust for construction of a bituminous concrete parking lot for the ers or guests at River and Elliot St., Newton High-lands, was accepted by the Board. The committee had imposed a long set of re-strictions, most of them at the suggestion of persons living in the area.

One of the restrictions provided that the petitioner should maintain the area, with attention to trees and shrubbery and keeping it in good order generally. It was also stipulated that the site would not be used for any purpose other than parking of cars, and that the police department could regulate the lot, which would be equipped with

The Board accepted Claims and Rules' favorable report, with restrictions, on two petitions that were tied together. One was for construction of a stories high, for elderly tenants who could afford to live in "sumptuous circumstan-ces" at 31-47 Paul St., Newton Centre. This petition was brought by Luther Paul Com-pany on behalf of Senior Liv-within the Board's preroga-tive to suggest a name, and it was voted to have President Bauckman appoint a commit-tee of two Aldermen to con-fer with the city solicitor in an effort to determine whether the Board can properly make such a proposal. Bauckman named Alder men Burke and Magni as the committee members.

Magni's information pre sented in support of his peti-tion for honoring Harry N. Gath Jr., was as follows: "In 1926, Harry "Sonny" Gath established a restaurant in Newtonville, which he operated until he died in 1954, at the age of fifty-one. He was always actively interested in young people and sports.

"About 1936 a club was or ganized and sponsored "Sonny" which was ca cluding Edward C. Uehlein "Sonny" which was called and Paul J. Burke, both of Gath's Guards. Later a foot-Joe Ward, the leader of the Post 48 National Champion Drill Team, was the first coach. Price Rise In Building Of Schools

Building Commissioner Vin ent D. Burnes has estimated that a 20 percent cost increase can be expected for construc-tion of the new Burr School and that there will be a rise of $10,000 in the cost of additions to two other schools, the Hyde and Carr Schools.

He said that the Burr and Hyde School contracts will be put out to bids next month, and the Carr School project will be advertised soon after-

Burns reported that the estimated cost of the Burr School has gone up from $1,000,000 to $1,200,000. That school, with 14 classrooms, will replace the 59-year-old Burr School and the 12-year old Murray Road School, which may be converted in-to a City Hall annex. For the Burr School site at the old Pine St. dump, legal proceedings are underway for the taking of 10 lots, with dwellings on five of them. Lt. Shapiro Begins Missile Launch Duty

Second Lt. Michael N. piro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lou-is Shapiro, 1462 Centre St., Newton Centre, has arrived at Grand Forks AFB, N.D., for duty as a missile launch ofduty as a missile launch of-ficer following his recent commissioning in the Force.

A graduate of Newton South High School, he was commis sioned through the ROTC pro-gram at Tufts University, where he received his B.S. degree in physics.

YOU'LL FIND A BETTER BUY AT EMERSON RUG'S AUGUST SALE

You couldn't have picked a better time to buy. It's well known that Emerson Rug holds its biggest broadloom sale in August. Almost every carpet we have is now reduced $3 to $6 a yard . . . and every yard is better quality broadloom from top flight carpet mills like Lees, Cabin Crafts, Mohawk, Masland, Barwick, Coronet and Philadelphia. You'll find these famous names printed proudly on the backs of our carpets for everyone to see. And you won't see them priced as low anywhere else. So if you want a better buy, go to the sale that has all the brand name broadlooms. Try Emerson Rug on Route 1 in Norwood this week.
